New York, November 27.-Herman Bernstein, the author, has issued a statement through the American Jewish Committee, in which he makes pub-Ile for the first time, he says, the interview he had with United States Ambussador Rockhill at St. Petersburg. It was on this interview, the statement says, that Jacob H. Schiff based his charges against Ambassador Rockhill and John Hays Hammond during a recent speech on the passport question.

"About a week ago Mr. Jacob H. Schiff made a statement to the effect that while President Taft was promising delegation after delegation that everything would be done by the Department of State to settle the passport question. Ambassador Rockhill had declated that he considered the matter of nu great importance.

"Mr. Schiff also stated that Mr. John Hays Hammond After Concessions.

"Mr. Schiff also stated that Mr. John Hays Hammond went to Russian financial agent, told Mr. Schiff that Mr. Hammond that Wilenkin, a Russian financial agent, told Mr. Schiff that Mr. Hammond was chosen as the head of the syndicate because he was a friend of the President.

"Mr. Hammond was violent, though lic for the first time, he says, the inter-mond was chosen as the head of the syndicate because he was a friend of the President.

"Mr. Hammond was violent, though not convincing, in his reply, and to prove his case he published a cable-gram from the Russian agent, Willenkin, and a letter he (Hammond) himself had sent to Wilenkin last April.

The charge that Mr. Hammond submitted to Russia a proposition to irrigate the transcaspian region for the purpose of growing cotton there and competing with the United States remains unanswered by Mr. Hammond.

"Last spring, when I was in St. Petersburg, I had several lengthy conversations with Ambassader Rockhill, in which he spoke to me frankly about the passport question, and in which ne showed not only that he did not take the American view of the question, but belittled it as of no consequence. Mr. Rockhill knew that I was studying conditions in Russia, that I was interested in the passport question, and that I wanted to find out what was actually being done in the matter. Mr. Rockhill knew that I had discussed the passport question with some of the foremest men in Russia, such as Count Witte, the forquestion with some of the foremost mer Russia, such as Count Witte, the for ner Prime Minister of Russia; Profes for Maxime Kovalevsky, member of the State Department Version.

"That was last May. I did not publish my interviews with Mr. Rockhill, though I wrote them out immediately after I had met him. I did not publish them, and would not have published them, and would not have published them if the State Department had not given out the following semi-official statement November 18:

"One of the Assistant Secretaries of the State Department said to-day that for years this government has been making every effort to better the condition of the Jews in Russia; also to have Russia recognize the passports of American Jews. This official said that President Taft had gone further than any other Executive.

Major Werner Orders American Salvation Army to Leave Town.

Concerning a report that he has ordered the American Salvation Army to leave the city, Major Werner stated last night that he had been reliable informed that the new organization had received much more money than it had expended in charity. He has therefore, called Adjutant W. R. Peckham to account. The latter, it is stated, has refused to leave the city, and is prepared to fight for his right to remain and to conduct his salvation campaigns here.

Major Werner stated that numerous complaints had been received about the American Salvation Army. He has been reformed that like complaints have been preferred against the American Salvation Army in other cities. If necessary, the case will be taken into the courts.

Identified Yeggmen.

Washington, November 27.—Eugene Van Buskirk, superintendent of the National Bureau of Criminal Identification, returned to Washington this morning from Houston, Va., where he identified the two men arrested at Virgilina, Va., last Friday as a pair of yeggmen with criminal records.

county."

One of the men was identified as "California Shorty," a notorious criminal, Mr. Van Buskirk said, who has served time in Florida, but a few months ago was pardoned by the Governor of the State. The other man gave the name of S. Roth. His picture was found in the Richmond rogues' gallery by Mr. Van Buskirk, who was found in the Richmond rogues' gallery by Mr. Van Buskirk, who stopped in that city on his way back to Washington. His picture is not in the National Bureau.

held at the Houston jail.

When arrested the men had in their suitcase nitroglycerin, fuses, goap, and all the other paraphernalia of up-to-date and accomplished yeggmen. Following their arrest, the county authorities wired the Washington police for assistance in tracing their records. "California Shorty," whose real name is not known, admitted his identity, Mr. Van Buskirk said, "but Roth declined to give the officers any information or submit to being measured and photographed.

"The nitroglycerine," said Mr. Van Buskirk, "was hanging in the water bottle in which the two men carried it for safety, on the wall in the sheriff's office when I got there. There was enough nitroglycerine in the bottle to have blown the building and all of them to atoms."

Sussex County Boy Cleans Up Hundreds of Dollars on Corn Crop.

Upon a total investment of $51, which includes his own labor and rent on an acre of his father's land, John A. Johnston, Jr., the thirteen-year-old Sussex county boy, who raised the best acre of corn in the State this year, will realize many hundreds of dollars.

He puts in his corn at 90 cents a bushel, which is too low. But jetting it go at that, he will get $147.60 for the 164 bushels. This makes a clean profit of $96.60. In addition, he got the $150 prize at the Southside Fair for the best acre of corn; a $50 prize at the Emporia Fair, and a $15 prize at the Emporia Fair, and a $15 prize at the Sussex County School Fair. This makes $215 cash in prizes.

On December 11 he will join the prize winning boys from the other States in a trip to Washington, with all expenses paid by the Bureau of Plant Industry. The kids will be shown everything in town.

This kid, who has beaten every other corn raiser in the State, man or boy, used about 1,400 pounds of phosphoric acid, 400 pounds of bone meal, 200 pounds of mitrate of sods. The ground did not get all this at once, but by degrees. The soil was used in raising peanuts last year. Of course it was plowed deep and worked well. The whole was under the direction of M. H. West, of Waverly, the demonstrator for Sussex county. Mr. West, who was in the city last night, was elated over Johnny's success.
